ON THE 27TH OF MAY 1775

1775

NEAR THE ONLY PORT OF AMERICAN TROOPS ENLARGED IN 1775 TWO CATTLE FROM HOG ISLAND ON THE OPPOSITE SIDE OF CHELSEA CREEK WERE FIRED UPON BY BRITISH REGULARS, WHO CAME UP THE CREEK IN TWO ARMED VESSELS AND SEVERAL BUNCOS. COLONEL ISRAEL PUTNAM, ARRIVING WITH REINFORCEMENTS MADE A VIGOROUS ATTACK, COMPELLING THEM TO RETIRE WITH HEAVY LOSS AND ABANDON THE SCHOONER "DIANA" WHICH DRIFTED WITH THE TIDE AND FINALLY GROUNDLED AT CHELSEA FERRY, WHERE SHE WAS DEMOLISHED AND BURNED. ★ FOR MERITORIOUS SERVICES ON THIS OCCASION COLONEL PUTNAM RECEIVED THE FIRST COMMISSION ISSUED BY THE PROVINCIAL CONGRESS FOR THE RANK OF MAJOR GENERAL.

FOREWORD

One of the most precious traditions in our New England Heritage is the love of education. The Pilgrims barely landed on Plymouth Rock when they began to make plans to establish a school. One of the most famous universities in the world, Harvard, began to materialize almost immediately as a result of these plans.

In Chelsea this New England tradition has been carefully fostered from the beginning to the present day. As early as 1655 Chelsea appropriated funds to provide free education for children of the settlement, being one of the earliest settlements to make such provisions. By 1749 the progressive leaders of the town had secured the services of a woman teacher to conduct a school to provide for secondary as well as elementary education and in 1851 Chelsea became one of the first to adopt a phonetic system of reading.

A major step towards effective vocational education was taken in 1902 when commercial subjects were introduced at the Senior High School.

At present our city is doing its best to provide modern facilities and equipment in all school departments to meet the needs of a progressive, democratic society.

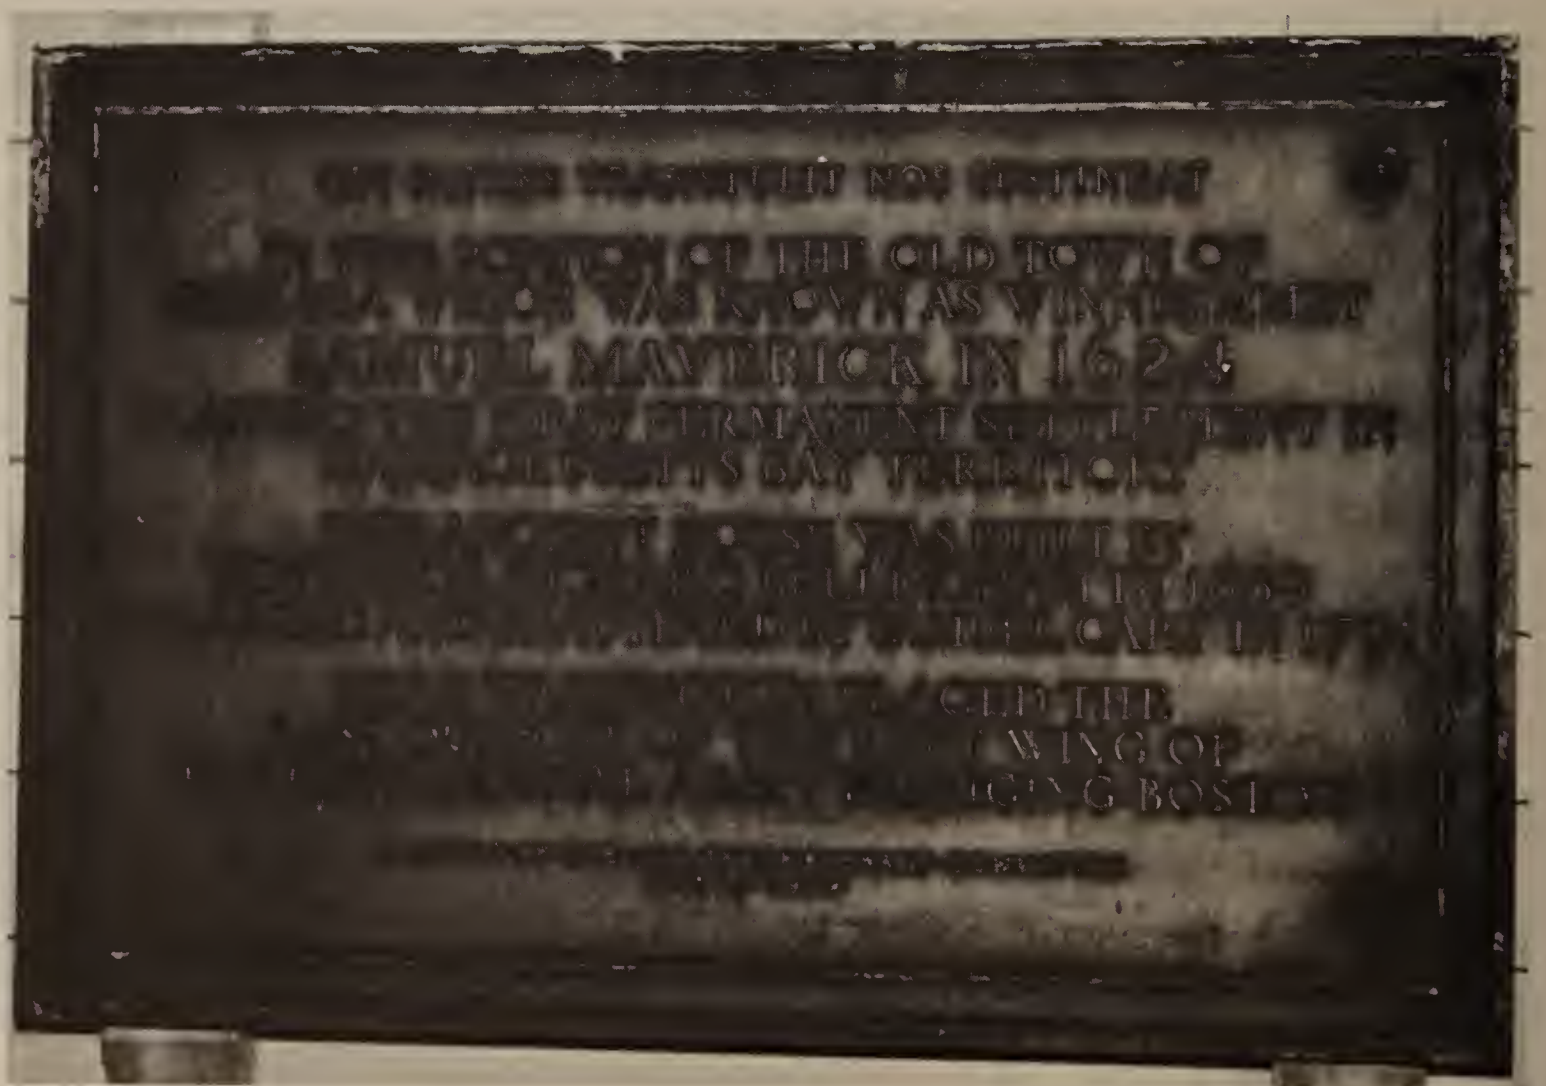

As we celebrate our own Commencement, we cannot help rejoicing also that our kindly mentor and Headmaster Mr. James J. Cotter has been blessed with a sort of commencement of his own. After many years of devotion to his calling as teacher, principal of the Williams School, and Headmaster of the Chelsea High School, Mr. Cotter has withdrawn from these duties to enjoy a little well-earned leisure and pursue some interests of his own. Whatever these interests are, we know that they will be educational, humanitarian, and altruistic, for as the man is so are his works.

And so, our own "sails unfurling", we wish a new "gathering strength" especially to you, Mr. Cotter. Many thanks, and many wishes for your health and happiness.

During his tenure as principal of Chelsea High, Mr. James C. Cotter earned the respect of both faculty and students for his untiring efforts to update the school. He acquired for us a great deal of new scientific equipment and a modern Language Lab. Mr. Cotter's aims were to encourage self-directed discipline from the students and to provide progressive teachers who would prepare students for tomorrow's world. We wish Mr. Cotter well in his retirement and many years of health and happiness.

FACULTY

Upon the resignation of Mr. James J. Cotter, Mr. John F. Ridge was appointed Headmaster of the Chelsea High School. A devoted educator, and a fine person besides, Mr. Ridge has won many friends and well-wishers.

His promotion culminates a career in the school system that started 36 years ago as a teacher at the Williams Junior High School. Since then he has taught in the High School, has been Submaster of the Shurtleff School, and has performed many outstanding services in the school system as well as in the community at large.

As we go to press Mr. Ridge is also acting Superintendent of schools. All who know him wish him the best of luck and success in the future.

Headmaster

Upper left: Patient and industrious, our senior clerk Miss Genevieve Piantek, keeps cool and smiles as she works.

Upper right: One of the nicest people you can meet is our senior clerk Miss Claire Forbes. It's almost a pleasure to get a detention-card from her.

Center: Mr. Nathan T. Margolis, our Assistant Principal, manages the discipline and the assignments and is always ready to help out a student or a teacher.

The Guidance Department has always been the place to which students have turned for help in their educational problems. Guidance Department head, Mr. Eli Richman and his able associates, Mr. Edward Brown, Miss Adele Revis, and Mr. Joseph Moran, are always ready to advise the students and to point out which curriculum would be most beneficial to them.

The staff of the Guidance Department is thoroughly acquainted with the requirements of most colleges and can quickly and efficiently inform the students what college they are best suited for. In this manner, the Guidance Department helps students to reach their goals through education.

Upper: Our Guidance Department maintains personal contact with every student.

Lower: Mr. Edward Brown, Mr. Joseph Moran and Miss Adele Revis.

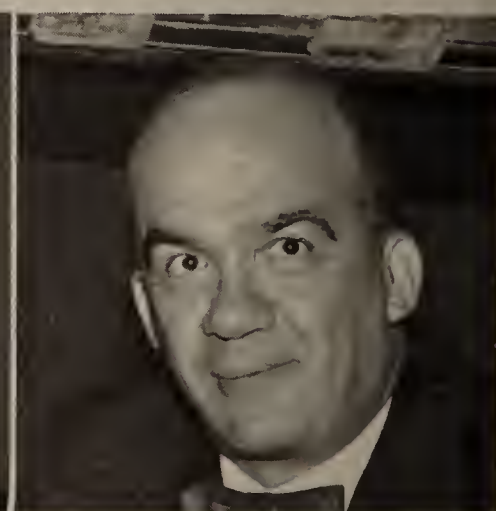

One of the most cherished traditions of our New England heritage is the power and purity of the English language. In colonial times many families sent their sons to study in England, and settlements imported teachers from England to teach in their schools. To the present day schools and colleges in New England strive for excellence in English. At Chelsea High we take pride in our achievements in English and are constantly seeking new methods and teaching-aids to further these achievements.

Left: Mr. Maurice Greenfield, head of the English Department at the Chelsea High School. "Anna, are you sure you need that comma there?"

Lower right: Mrs. Melley. "And after you finish this book. . . ."

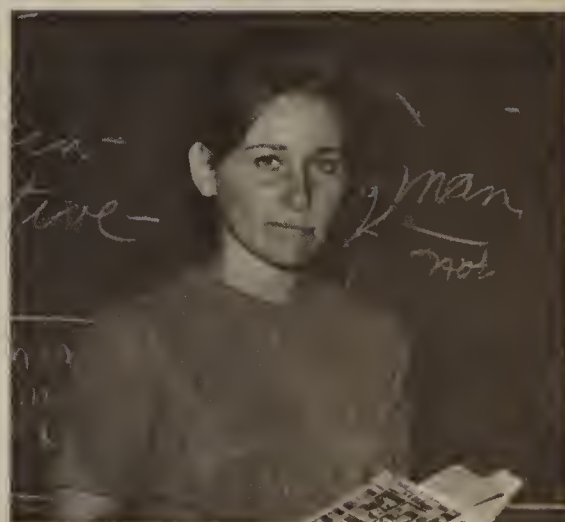

Left: Mr. Bernard Schwartz. "You will smile and like it."

Upper right: Mrs. Helene Berman. "Ronald, you should get your hair cut."

Lower right: Mr. Robert O'Brien. "HMMMMMM. . . ."

Upper: Mr. Robert Buckley. "Well, take it and think it over."

Lower left: Mrs. Barbara Smuckler. "The joy of learning together."

Lower right: Miss Harriet Malone. "The Lord helps those who help themselves."

Upper: Miss Carol Shore. "Don't touch the machines unless you know how to work them."

Lower right: Mr. Emanuel D'Ambrosio, Head of Commercial Dept.
"Love that cafeteria food."

The Commercial Department seeks to train young men and women in the skills they need to enter the business world. Many of the graduates who do not plan to go on to business school will depend on the skills they have acquired at Chelsea High to carry them successfully through the rigors of business and finance.

The Commercial Department under Mr. Emanuel D'Ambrosio consists of three divisions. These divisions are the Stenographic Course, which teaches the basics of transcription; the Accounting Course, in which students learn to keep books accurately; and the Practical Business Course which trains students for all kinds of office work in general.

Upper right: Mrs. Katherine Berenson. "That's not a bug; those are my glasses."

Left: Mrs. Elizabeth Dasch. "That's my finger in there."

Lower right: Miss RoseAnn Vital. "Hair, hair, all I see is hair."

Upper: Mr. Vincent Apruzzese. "Now, the quarterback rolls out...."

Lower left: Mr. Edwin Weinstein. "One and one are two."

Lower right: Miss Phyllis Hanson. "All together now, girls; shift."

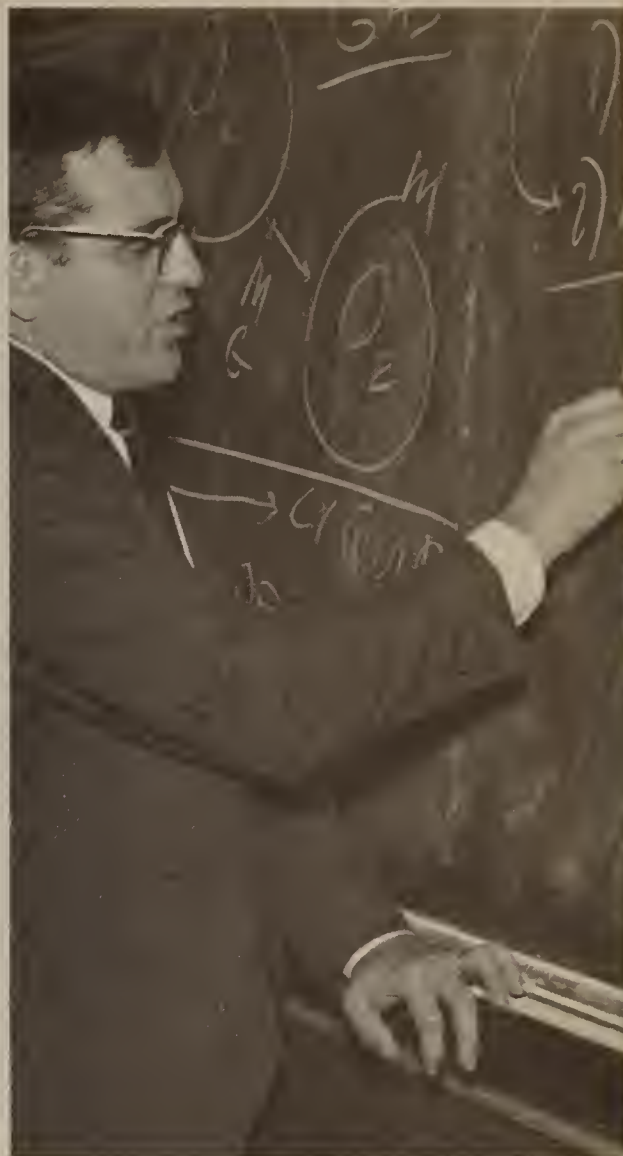

Many of the luxuries mankind enjoys today are the results of advancements in physics, chemistry, and biology. The Science Department of Chelsea High keeps up with new techniques in the sciences.

Under the able direction of Mr. Aaron Kipnes, our science teachers instruct us in the basic concepts of biology, chemistry, and physics. The meter stick, the bunsen burner, and other tools of the laboratory have become familiar to those who have studied the sciences at Chelsea High. In order to cope with the modern world, every human being must be aware of his environment. The Science Department of Chelsea High seeks to train its students with that object in view.

 "Don't faint now, faint later."

Opposite center: Mr. Roman Pucko. "A one, an a two, an a . . ."

Opposite right: Mr. David Pearlmutter. "Please, don't cut my tie."

Upper right: Mr. Lawrence Baker. "What does NaCl mean?"

Lower right: Mr. Barry Balan. "Gentlemen, meet your ancestors."

Lower left: Mr. Edward Sahagian. "What seems to be the problem?"

Right: Mrs. Alice Sandberg, head of the Department of Mathematics. "Do we understand each other?"

Lower left: Mrs. Etta Kaplan. "Now we each have a piece of pi."

Right: Mr. Francis Garvey. "Forget about modern math, and do it the old way."

Under the direction of Mrs. Alice B. Sandberg, our Math Department now offers modern courses which prepare the student for the practical world. Believing that the student must learn how to think independently, the math teachers emphasize the use of reference books as aids to the understanding of a problem. The honorary math society, GAT, founded by Mrs. Sandberg in 1951, the math league, and the actuary exams have proven conducive to the study of mathematics. The students who will enter the professions in which mathematics plays a large role are indebted to Mrs. Sandberg, Mr. Fillipone, Mrs. Mack, Mrs. Kaplan, Mr. Sahagian, and Mr. Sarvi.

Left: Mr. Myer Gootkin, head of the Language Department. "One more step and I'll push the button."

Right: Mrs. Frances Montesano. "Yes, they're real pearls."

Under the direction of Mr. Meyer Gootkin and our able language teachers, the language department of Chelsea High has become one of the most progressive in this area. The new language lab is equipped with the most modern facilities: four tape recorders, individual lab booths with microphones, and an extensive supply of tapes in Latin, French, German, and Spanish. The lab, however, is not the only new addition to the department. We also have two new language teachers: "unser neuer Lehrer," Mr. Norman Finklestein; and Miss Kathleen Hyland, our new Latin teacher. Together with our veteran teachers, they have gained the respect and admiration of our students.

Left: Miss Kathleen Hyland. "Amo, Amas, Amat!"

Upper right: Miss Rosalind Brandt. "How do you say in Spanish, 'I'm brushing up on my German'?"

Lower right: Mr. Norman Finklestein. "Welcome, Herr Finklestein!"

Upper left: Mr. Gilbert Cherry. "This is literally unbelievable!"

Right: Mr. Max Leader, head of the Social Science Department. "That is extremely sig-nif-i-cant."

Lower left: Mr. Sheldon Greenglass. "That's my name, not the color of my glasses."

Upper left: Mr. Irving Schwartz. "It melts in your mouth, not in your hands."

Upper right: Mr. James Barooshian. "The ancient and the modern."

Center left: Mr. Bernard Berenson. "Let's see how fast you can run the mile."

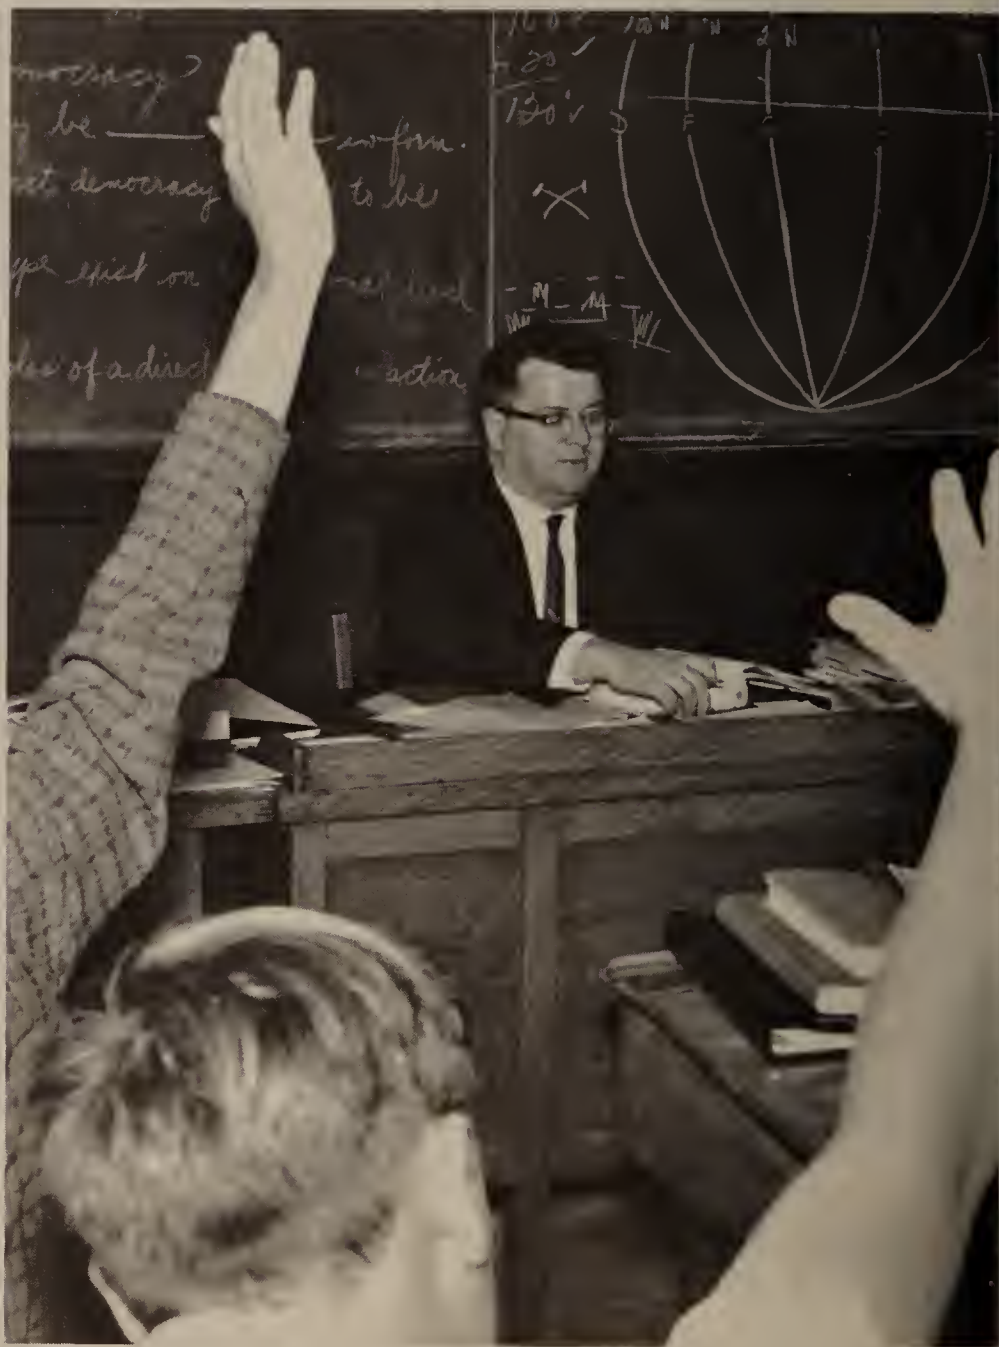

Lower right: Mr. William Quinn. "We caught him smiling."

In order to understand the present we must gain knowledge of the past. We must become acquainted with the changing world around us. We must learn the laws which help us to live with each other in peace and harmony.

Helping us to reach our goals are the teachers of the Social Science Department under the chairmanship of Mr. Max Leader. Instructing us in U.S. History, World History, Economics, Consumer Education, Business Law, Problems of Democracy, Civics and Sociology, our teachers develop our minds and prepare us to go on with our rich New England Heritage by continuing our education in college or in the world of affairs.

Upper left: Mr. Gerald Afrow. "That flag was made by Betsy Ross."

Lower left: Mr. John Welch. "Don't think you can practice law after you leave this classroom."

Above: Mr. Christy Belisis. "Hey! It's almost lunch time!"

Something new at Chelsea High this year is a program called Distributive Education. This is a cooperative learning program in which the students study until noon, and spend the afternoon at part-time jobs. Under the able leadership of Mr. Chris Belisis, these boys and girls study English, Social Studies, and business subjects such as salesmanship, merchandising, Retailing, Advertising, and Commercial arithmetic. After school hours each student reports to an assigned training station where he works under a store supervisor and the periodic observation of Mr. Belisis.

This program is a wonderful opportunity for students to obtain the skills needed in the business world while they are still in school.

Mrs. Marie Kennedy, our school librarian, has proudly informed us that recently we have received a $10,000 federal educational grant for the High School Library. This will help us to an estimated four thousand new volumes, including every field of interest from encyclopedias to hobby books. In addition, an up-to-date professional section and the latest self-help reading facilities will be available to the students.

However, the Library at Chelsea High means more to each student than just a place to get books. Many of our clubs meet there, and it is always a wonderful place to browse in.

Upper: Mrs. Marie Kennedy, our capable Librarian.

Upper: Miss Irene Boyle. "Cut the apple, not your finger."

Lower: "I chased that leopard four miles before I caught it."

Whether at home or in business the modern girl looks forward to the time when she will be a wife and a mother. So come on, girls, learn to cook and to sew! At Chelsea High you have an excellent chance with Miss Irene Boyle and Miss Melba Wright, respectively. This, in time, will provide a great deal of happiness not only to yourselves but also to your families and to society in general.

Left: Mrs. Lorraine Ruby. "That's very good, Miss DaVinci."

Right: "This will be tomorrow's hot lunch."

The aim of the Art Department is to encourage creative activity and abilities relating to the art field. The work done by beginning art students encompasses units in color, form, line and design, and introduces the Art student to the techniques of watercolor, oil painting, block printing, and ceramics. The advanced art students are required to increase their knowledge and their technical proficiency in various media. The advanced art course includes, among other units, commercial design, drawing and printing, sculpture, and visual design.

Left: Mr. Alvin Toltz, Director of Music. "Did you ever see a flying saucer?"

Right: Mr. Guido Ottavi. "Where's the candelabra?"

A day never goes by during which we do not hear some kind of music, whether it be professional singers, instrumentalists, or simply people humming to themselves. It is not usually easy to discern which music is of good quality and which is not. To help the students at Chelsea High appreciate good music and to enjoy performing on a musical instrument, Chelsea High has two able music instructors. Mr. Alvin Toltz, a connoisseur in vocal art, directs our vocal music; while Mr. Guido Ottavi, an expert instrumentalist, organizes and trains our fine Chelsea band.

Upper left: Mr. Savino Morelli. "I will now split the board with my bare hand."

Right: Mr. Barnett Freedman. "I once got my tie caught."

The Industrial Arts Department of Chelsea High helps to give our young men a solid background in woodworking, printing and auto-mechanics. Mr. Savino Morelli gives his students a broad foundation in carpentry. Mr. Arthur Hagan's class provides the automotive-enthusiast with an opportunity to develop his abilities. Mr. Barnett Freedman instructs the students in the art of correct printing techniques.

Upper: Mr. Henry McCarthy. "You've got my finger caught in the book!"

Lower: Mr. Edward Connolly. "What! No gas!!!"

In an age when the automobile has become a virtual necessity, it is vitally important for a potential driver to learn immediately the fundamental rules and regulations that are prerequisites of safe driving. Such indoor training is conducted by Mr. Henry McCarthy.

Of no less importance are the outdoor driving classes, taught by Mr. Edward Connolly. This training gives the students a thorough background in the basics of driving by providing them with experience for which there is no substitute in handling a car, and in continually exercising courtesy, care, and good judgment.

Opposite Lower: "Who put glue in the deodorant?"

Upper: "Kill it, boys!"

Lower: Mr. Henry McCarthy: "How do you like our new swimming pool?"

Mr. Henry McCarthy's physical education classes of boys promote the physical and mental health of our students by providing games and other sports activities which will help them become physically fit, mentally alert, and socially sound.

In Miss Reba Painter's physical education classes, the girls become thoroughly familiar with all aspects of competitive sports. The girls' basketball and tennis teams and Miss Painter's special program for weight reduction have all proven to be stimulating projects. Miss Painter is also the popular adviser to the Pep Club, the Cheering Squad, the Majorettes, and any Chelsea High School girl that may need her.

"The Beacon" is the product of many hours of hard but pleasant work on the part of many students. Throughout the year the executive staff and the contributing editors have met regularly to discuss various problems in layout, photography, and body copy. The advertising staff deserves special thanks for their efforts to raise money in order to reduce the cost of the "Beacon" to the students. Also the typists and the artists are to be commended for their proficiency and devotion. This year's "Beacon" will certainly give many enjoyable hours to the Chelsea High School Class of 1967 who will always want to recapture the excitement and the challenge of their senior year.

On March 8, 1967 the senior class participated in the twelfth annual Student Government Day sponsored by the Chelsea Lodge of Elks. After an enthusiastic rally and an election held under the supervision of Mr. Bernard Berenson and Mr. Max Leader, the seniors took over the city government for a day. They were warmly welcomed by the city officials whose offices they filled for the day, and enjoyed the excellent treat provided by the Chelsea Elks. The biggest "kick" we get out of it, though, every year is to show the old folks how it should really be done.

Good Government Day

The purpose of the Honor Society is to encourage scholastic achievement, character, and leadership. The stringent qualifications for admittance and the hard work necessary to maintain their membership, make Honor Society students value their status. Mr. Irving Schwartz, the Honor Society's faculty advisor, is always alert to new ideas which stimulate enthusiasm in the group. Interesting and highly informative activities have marked the society's history and will continue to make this organization one of the most active in the school.

A wide range of volunteer service programs sponsored by the Red Cross encourages the students of Chelsea High to play an important part in serving their community. The Red Cross believes that youth has the intelligence and the ability to shoulder great responsibilities. In line with this conviction the Red Cross encourages its High School students to develop their own programs and serve on Red Cross chapter boards and committees. Chelsea High Red Cross members have worked in cooperation with the Metropolitan Boston Red Cross chapter for many years. The Red Cross programs in which students take part are designed to help realize the goals of American education through practical service.

Our modern society produces an ever-increasing number of controversial issues which are not easily resolved. It is the purpose of Chelsea High's Debating Club, under the supervision of Mr. Bernard Schwartz, to explore these issues and, if possible, to reach meaningful conclusions. At the club's monthly meetings topics are chosen by the executive committee and are discussed in depth. Throughout the year members are trained in the fundamentals of logical arrangement and in the art of effective and forceful presentation. Sponsoring debates between opposing teams helps a great deal in acquiring mastery of this useful art.

Debating Club

Science Club

One of the most dynamic clubs in the Chelsea High School is the Science Club. Its members and officers show a keen interest in all phases of science and help to bring speakers and important news before the club. The importance of science in our modern technology has been emphasized by many of the speakers. At times, certain members are selected to attend seminars at the Museum of Science and other scientific institutions. After attending, the members report on their experiences to the rest of the club. At some meetings, science films dealing with new discoveries in biology, chemistry, and physics, are shown, and the members engage in spirited discussion of the wonders they have seen and heard.

Opposite: AUDIO VISUAL CLUB. About a week before school opens, a selected group of boys under the leadership of Mr. Roman Pucko, spends a great deal of time familiarizing themselves with all types of projection and amplification equipment. This group of boys is known as the Audio-Visual Club, and during the school year, the members of this club spend their study periods supplying projection screens, filmstrips, and television sets to the various rooms. They also help the teachers to run their programs by assisting them in the proper use of the machines. The services that the club performs have helped the students of Chelsea High to a better understanding of the materials discussed in class.

The glorious sounds coming from the auditorium during the lunch periods belong to the girls of the Glee Club. Under the direction of Mr. Alvin Toltz these girls develop their musical talents, and practice for the assemblies and programs at which they often perform.

The members of the Glee Club are chosen from girls who have been auditioned and classified according to their vocal abilities. The Glee Club offers these girls not only a chance to perform before an audience but also the opportunity to improve themselves as singers.

The Journalism Club, under the direction of Dr. Max Ross, has continued to publish the Beaconette, which appears three times yearly. The club has also extended its functions beyond the Beaconette. Besides having had a guest speaker from Boston University, the Journalism Club has had connections with journalism programs for high schools sponsored by the Boston Globe. These programs, and others, have greatly encouraged our Journalism Club members to take an active interest in the ever-growing field of Journalism.

The techniques of motion, poise, and speech that strike one as graceful and forceful on the stage are important to everybody in every walk of life. As advisor to the Dramatics Club, Mrs. Barbara Smuckler helps the young Thespians of Chelsea High to acquire these skills, which are so vital to human enrichment.

In exercises during meetings, and in plays presented before the student body, the members of the club have shown their enthusiasm for the art of dramatics. Though few will ever become professional actors, the members are having a lot of fun, and are beginning to think of themselves as potential Richard Burtons or Elizabeth Taylors.

The Tutoring Squad consists of the best math students taking Advanced Math, and was formed to give private instruction to those students who are in need of additional help in mathematics. Members of the tutoring squad are chosen by Mrs. Alice Sandberg, and are referred to students who have asked her for help. This has proved to be of great value to a number of Chelsea High School students.

Mathematics is a fascinating as well as an important subject in Chelsea High's curriculum, and it is the purpose of Gamma Alpha Tau, the honorary math society, to promote a lively interest in mathematics. Under the supervision of Mrs. Alice B. Sandberg, head of the Mathematics Department, members of GAT participate in thoughtful, informative discussions, solve complex mathematical problems, or listen to lectures by guest speakers. Each meeting of the society is thus an adventure into the language and history of mathematics and its effect upon our culture. Climaxing each year of GAT is a gala social affair at which prizes are awarded to outstanding math students.

Chelsea High's Math League is composed of the top math students, and is supervised by members of the math department under the direction of Mrs. Alice Sandberg. The students compete against other schools in contests sponsored by the Greater Boston Math League. These contests consist of problems in all areas of mathematics, from basic arithmetic to trigonometry.

Latin Club

The Latin Club, under the able guidance of Miss Katherine Hyland, is one of the most outstanding clubs at Chelsea Senior High School. The truism that Latin is a dead language is definitely proven false by its enthusiastic members. Depicting scenes of ancient Rome, the students bring Roman culture back to life. Pleasure and learning are combined in the variety of programs and create a greater interest in the study of Latin.

Spanish Club

Laughter and songs are characteristic of Spanish Club meetings. "Circulo del Espanol," as it is known to its members, is under the direction of Mrs. Frances Montesano. The meetings are conducted almost entirely in that language. The programs consist of Spanish songs, entertaining skits, and talks concerning the customs and histories of Spanish-speaking nations. Spanish Club meetings are concluded with happy exclamations of "imaginase"!!

Lower: FRENCH CLUB MEMBERS. Seated from left: M. Flaherty, P. Butkovitz, F. Poulos, C. Kamens. Standing: S. Zam, E. Evans, R. Murstein, S. Nanes, B. Sullivan.

The French Club of Chelsea High School is under the direction of Mr. Myer Gootkin. This club arranges active programs which are both educational and entertaining. French songs, skits, and games are presented in an attempt to bring a little bit of "Gay Paris" to our students. All members heartily agree that it is much easier and more fun to supplement their knowledge of France from interesting Club meetings than from additional books.

German Club

The German Club, under the supervision of Mr. Norman Finklestein, is one of the most enjoyable clubs at Chelsea High School. Membership is open to all students who take German. Some of the meetings are conducted entirely in German. This enables the members to apply, in an informal atmosphere, the principles they have studied in class. Another aim of "Der Deutsche Verein" is to broaden the students' knowledge of Germany and German culture.

Left: From left: V. Goc, Vice-President; Mr. Cherry Advisor; C. May, Treasurer; R. Smigielski, President.

The World Affairs Club aims to help the members develop independent opinions on foreign and domestic events. Under the guidance of Mr. Gilbert Cherry, the group plans many activities throughout the year. They enjoy guest speakers, films, discussions and an annual trip to the United Nations Building in New York City.

Traffic Squad

This year's traffic squad was organized under the direction of Mr. Gilbert Cherry. The 1967 squad was chosen in May 1966 from the boys who exhibited favorable scholastic records and fine deportment. The faithful assistance of these students in maintaining order in the corridors and in the cafeteria has been deeply appreciated.

Band

It is a well established fact that much of the color and enthusiasm of the football games is prompted by a peppy, energetic band. Such inspiration is provided for the Chelsea High School fans at every football game by our small but spirited band, under the expert direction of Dr. Guido Ottavi. "Quality" not "Quantity" is the motto of this year's band which also furnishes music for all school assemblies and local parades.

However, there is much more to the band than just football games, assemblies and parades. Taking a peek into the auditorium any day you can see and hear the band performing. So, good old Chelsea High Band, keep up the good work.

Junior Council

During their first experience with student government in 1966 the members of the class of 1967 elected their Junior Council. They were under the advisorship of Mr. Leonard Tolin who gave freely of his time to guide the class. During the year the Junior Council carefully planned for their Junior Prom around the theme of "Some Enchanted Evening." The efforts of the Council were paid off by the gala success of the Junior Prom.

Senior Prom

Although the seniors and their dates had to "Climb Ev'ry Mountain" of snow to get to the P.A. V. Hall on February 23rd, they all felt it was well worth it. Dancing to the "Do, Re, Mi's" of the orchestra, the handsomely clad guests found one of "Their Favorite Things" was the Grand March. "Something Good" was the tempting refreshments served downstairs. "I Have Confidence" that as the seniors said "So Long, Farewell", all knew that "The Sound of Music" was an appropriate theme for a long remembered Senior Prom.

Sports

Mr. Saul Nechtem, Athletics Director

Coach Edward Leo's proteges completed one of their most successful campaigns in recent years. Led by co-captains Tom Tracia and Leo Ciulla, the Red Devils beat such formidable teams as Quincy, Lynn Classical, Somerville, and archrival Everett; and had the fates been a bit kinder, Chelsea could have won at least two more games.

The climax to the season was the memorable 23-8 victory over Everett. Totally dominating the game, the Devils proved beyond a doubt their excellent training and ability. We look forward to seeing college-bound Howard Glazer, Tom Tracia, and Donald Robinson leading their respective college teams. Good luck to all the Red Devils who made the 1966 campaign so exciting!

Standing: Evelyn Simonelli, Suzanne Koczowski, Connie Maccarone, Elaine Tyre, Linda Horwood, Susan Kane, Cecile Roselli, Rita Kowalski.

"Stand up and cheer" is their cry, and spreading school spirit is their job. Through thick and thin the cheerleaders set fine examples for the students to follow as they cheer the teams on to moral and physical victories. Their enthusiasm has brought many colorful moments to Chelsea sports event.

Twirling and prancing in time to the music of the band, the majorettes help boost the morale of the faithful spectators at our football games. They add a great deal of enjoyment and spirit to any activity in which they perform. Under the direction of Miss Reba Painter and Dr. Guido Ottavi, the majorettes put on a fine performance at all times.

Girls' A.A.

Right: GIRLS' TENNIS. Kneeling from left: P. Stec, L. Horwood, J. Mondano, B. Evans. Standing: L. Langley, S. Kane, H. Lombardi, D. Monziona, C. May, C. Grzybinski.

Are American teenagers getting soft? Many people think so. Miss Reba Painter helps to keep Chelsea High girls physically fit. In the weekly gym periods basketball, volleyball, tennis, and calisthenics provide the needed physical activity. This is necessary not only to develop athletic skills and team spirit, but also to provide a much needed relief from books and hard classroom chairs.

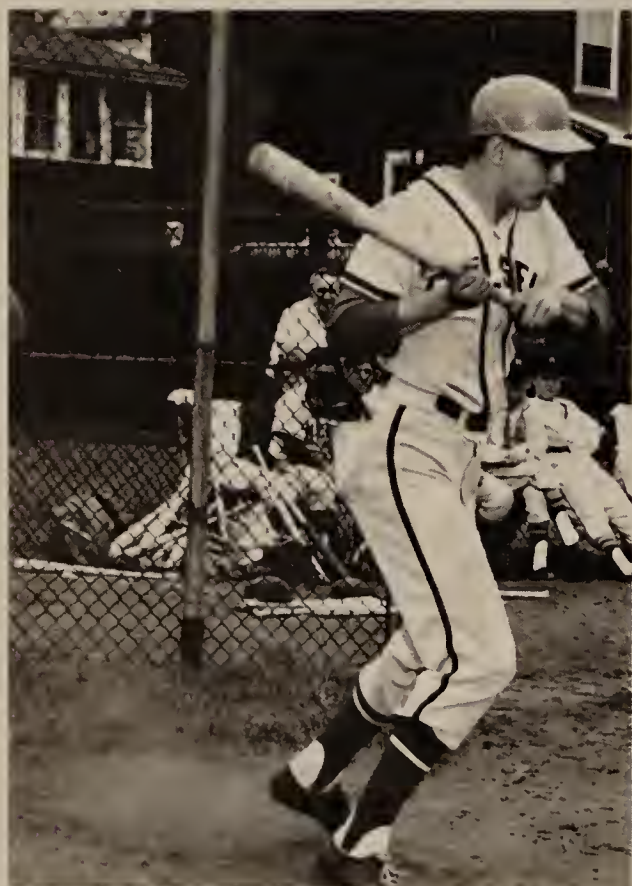

Opposite Upper: Kneeling from left: G. Tyre, S. Feinberg, R. Long, Co.Captain; D. Domoretsky, Co-Captain; H. Glazer, D. Mugford. Standing: A. Goodman, Assistant Coach; R. Wells, D. Robinson, F. O'Connor, R. Robinson, L. Robinson, B. Liberty, Manager; F. Garabedian, Coach.

Fred Garabedian's proteges have once again turned Chelsea into a formidable basketball team. With co-captain Donald Domoretsky and Robert Long leading the attack, the Red Devils have displayed a balanced offense. The team's outstanding feature is its spirit. Although the boys do not have the height of some of the other Greater Boston League teams, they compensate for that with hustle and sharp-shooting. The team never goes on the court with the attitude of playing conservative ball but with the attitude of winning, and are promising to do just that.

Basketball

Under Coach Joe Bevere, the high school baseball team foresees a winning campaign. With such returning stars as Captain Ricky Wells, Howie Glazer, Don Domoretsky, Jimmy Cronin, Joel Golden, Dennis Tiro, and Brad Prenny, the Devils have the potential to finish high in the 1967 Greater Boston League. Winning in any sport depends upon the team's athletic ability and determination. Perhaps not every member of the team is "loaded" with talent, but that everpresent drive for victory is in the hearts of all the Devils diamond men. Thus all Chelsea High School baseball lovers are assured of having an exciting season.

Baseball

Hockey

Under Coach James Stafford the Chelsea High Hockey Team has done admirably considering the tough schedule it faced. The team's greatest attributes have been its perseverance to improve upon its play and its desire to win. The backbone of the team has been the brilliant display of action by co-captains Leo Ciulla and James Cronin, both of whom expect to continue their hockey careers beyond high school. The Chelsea fans can truly say that the past season has been full of surprises and very exciting.

Track

The Chelsea High track squad under the popular coaching of Mr. Bernard Berenson has shown much promise this season. The team, led by co-captains Dante DeCain and James Linehan, hopes to better the three wins, two losses and one tie of last year. With some fine seniors and juniors returning, we should have a balanced team in both track and field events which are essential to a winning record.

Lower: TRACK TEAM. Kneeling from left: R. McCarthy, T. Tracia, D. Wilcox, M. Houston, D. Robinson, D. Sweet, D. DeCain, J. Linehan. Standing, first row: Anthony Bavaro, Assistant Coach; C. Following the democratic ideal, the Senior class has elected its own council and class officers. To these individuals has fallen the not-so-easy task of guiding the class of 1967 through its last and most important year at Chelsea High. Under the capable and understanding class advisor, Mr. Robert O'Brien, this year's seniors have enjoyed a most successful year and have many wonderful memories to cherish. The members of the senior council have certainly proved themselves worthy of the confidence and trust their classmates have shown in electing them.

ON THE 27TH OF MAY
1775

NEAR THIS POINT A BODY OF AMERICAN TROOPS ENGAGED IN DRIVING CATTLE FROM HOG ISLAND ON THE OPPOSITE SIDE OF CHELSEA CREEK, WERE FIRED UPON BY BRITISH REGULARS, WHO CAME UP THE CREEK IN TWO ARMED VESSELS AND SEVERAL BARGES. COLONEL ISRAEL PUTNAM, ARRIVING WITH REINFORCEMENTS MADE A VIGOROUS ATTACK, COMPELLING THEM TO RETIRE WITH HEAVY LOSS AND ABANDON THE SCHOONER "DIANA" WHICH DRIFTED WITH THE TIDE AND FINALLY GROUNDLED AT CHELSEA FERRY. HERE SHE WAS DISMANTLED AND BURNED. ★ FOR MERITORIOUS SERVICES ON THIS OCCASION COLONEL PUTNAM RECEIVED THE FIRST COMMISSION ISSUED BY THE PROVINCIAL CONGRESS FOR THE RANK OF MAJOR GENERAL.

In Memoriam

MR. J. FRANK HERLIHY

As the 1967 Beacon went to press our city was saddened by the sudden passing of our Superintendent of schools, Mr. J. Frank Herlihy.

Mr. Herlihy was born in Chelsea and spent most of his life in this city. He was graduated from Boston College High and Boston College, where he received a Bachelor of Arts degree, cum laude. He first entered the Chelsea school system while still a freshman at Boston College, teaching at the Evening School. Studying while teaching, Mr. Herlihy obtained his Master's Degree from Boston University in 1934.

Mr. Herlihy's rise in the school system was a steady progression from classroom teacher of algebra and physical education at the beginning of his career to Superintendent of Schools in 1942.

For almost forty years Mr. Herlihy devoted all his energy and talent to the betterment of the Chelsea school system. Not only his friends and relatives will miss him. All who came in contact with him will remember his dedication and his untiring efforts for the good of the community.

Before you accept that first job . . .

Look over your employer
as carefully as he does you

What's the Company like anyway? Would I be proud to work there? Reputation for square dealing with employees? Pleasant surroundings?

Will I be working with others my own age? Are they friendly? Do they socialize after hours?

Will the boss be reasonable? Appreciate good, hard work, but won't explode if I make a mistake?

Will I make a decent week's pay? Have a chance for raises, advancement, more responsibility? How about fringe benefits?

Is the work challenging? I had what it takes to get through high school. Will they give me a chance to use my brains?

Note: Many young men and women in this area can answer "Yes" to these questions. They work for New England Telephone.

Why not talk with our employment interviewer soon . . . before you graduate? Ask your Guidance Counselor to tell you when and where to apply.
